

Information Sheet

Solar irradiance in the local area

The local area benefits from a solar micro-climate which means it enjoys some of the highest solar irradiance levels in Scotland, receiving the same amount of energy each year from the sun as sites hundreds of miles further south.

